APIRG Video Camera Use Contract

The APIRG Video Camera may be borrowed for use at another location provided that the following conditions are met:

1. The 'borrower' (individual/organization representative) agrees to pay a deposit upon the initial borrowing of the Video Camera, to be returned upon receipt of the Video Camera, under the condition that it is returned in its original condition. If repairs or replacements are to be made, they must be done before the return of the Video Camera.
2. The Video Camera is returned on or before the return date indicated in this contract. The deposit will not be reimbursed to the borrower until the Video Camera has been returned.
3. The borrower knows how to handle and operate the Video Camera
4. The borrower keeps an accurate account of the use of the Video Camera.
5. The borrower (individual or organization) named in this contract agrees to pay for any damages, replacement of parts or whole, or repair costs incurred while the Video Camera is in their care. It is understood that the deposit will not be returned until said repairs/replacement have been made. In addition, any outstanding repairs/replacements will be charged to the borrower or to the organization they represent.

In return, APIRG will:

1. Provide written instructions and practical training in the use of the Video Camera.
2. Provide technical support if the borrower runs into difficulties while using the Video Camera (if reasonable).
